About the Host Institution:

Samuktala Sidhu Kanhu College is a rural, govt-aided undergraduate college affiliated to North Bengal University. It is a newly established college which started functioning since December of 2010. Nestled within the scenic beauty, surrounded by lush green tea gardens and forests in the natural ambience of the sub Himalayan Duars region, the college is located 15 kilometres away from Alipurduar town at Samuktala Gram Panchayat under Alipurduar Block-II. It is a standalone centre of higher education within a radius of 20 kilometres catering to the educational needs of students mostly belonging to the Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe and the downtrodden minority communities.
